- ❑ Motorul de căutare avansată permite căutarea de documente, în funcție de diferite criterii. Pentru început, se vor completa câmpurile destinate cuvintelor-cheie, se vor crea legături între ele prin operatori logici, iar apoi se va selecta unul dintre criteriile după care se va face căutarea.
- ❑ Pentru a rafina căutarea, se va selecta și un interval temporal.
- ❑ Pentru afișarea exclusivă a rezultatelor cu acces la textul integral, trebuie selectată opțiunea „SAGE Journals Available to Me”.

Research Paper

Managing local tourism: Building sustainable tourism management practices across local government divides

Dianne Dredge
has previously worked as a tourism planner in Queensland, New South Wales, Canada, Mexico and China. Her work has included conceptual design and site analysis of integrated resort proposals; strategic and local area plans; comparative analyses of destination competitiveness; and the assessment of the environmental impacts of tourism. Dredge has also been involved in tourism capacity building activities in local governments and tourism organisations. Her key research interests are in local government tourism management, place-based planning and management of tourism places, tourism organisations, tourism planning and policy.

Emma-Jane Ford
has over 12 years experience in the tourism industry in New South Wales, Fraser Island, Indonesia and North Queensland. She has worked on projects in environmentally sensitive areas such as the Bali Botanical Gardens where she developed marketing plans and implemented staff training programmes to improve visitor satisfaction. Her regional tourism development work has involved identifying and assessing potential tourism projects and providing critical analysis in the development and review of policies, management and business plans, funding submissions and research on a range of sustainable tourism planning and development issues. Ford has a Masters degree in Environmental and Business Management.
